

AT MEYER BROS. STORE

Feared the Disastrous Fire of '96 Would Be Duplicated.

Prompt Work Prevented a Serious Conflagration—Otto Meyer Was Badly Burned—Loss Principally by Smoke and Water About $6,000.00.

The disastrous Jones Block conflagration of 1896, came near to being duplicated this noon, and that the results are no worse is entirely due to the intelligent and capable management of chief Louis Bausch and the heroic work of his men.

At 11:30 o'clock an alarm was sounded from box 57 calling the Central and East Newark departments to the big store of Meyer Bros. & Co., on the East Side of the square. The response was immediate, but by the time the firemen arrived on the scene, dense volumes of smoke were issuing from the front and rear of the main store room, as well as the cellar ways.

It was immediately suggestive of the disastrous fire in the same cellar in 1896, and the firemen made preparations to fight a conflagration. Chief Bausch sent two lines of hose down the back cellar way, a third was taken into the store through the back door, while a fourth was sent down the front cellar way, the area way being removed for the purpose. An opening was cut through the floor of the store, and the stream there was played on the fire through this opening. The dense smoke added to the difficulties of the firemen, but nothing daunted, they played the four streams on the fire until within half an hour the fire was under control.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Helen Bower who conducts a millinery store in the rear of the Meyer Bros. room.

Mrs. Bower hangs her wraps on a hook on the inside of the door leading into the cellar. She was about to get her wraps to go to dinner, and upon opening the door discovered the cellar on fire. She quietly closed the door, and notified Miss Jennie Green, and Mr. Otto Meyer, acting manager, that the store was on fire. Mr. Meyer instantly rushed to the cellar way and down the stairs, when he was swept back by the flames and smoke. The door closed after him and he was in imminent peril of being burned to death. His screams were heard by Mr. S. Allen, an advertising artist, who is now at the store and he went

Loaded For Bear.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 29.—Bears have killed so much stock and frightened so many women and children in John and Unicoi counties that a general hunt has been started. Many armed men have gone to the mountains to check the animals. Over fifty bears have been trapped and killed in that section since October 1.

Wood's Arrival.

New York, Nov. 29.—Among the arrivals from Havana today was Governor Wood, who goes to Washington to consult Roosevelt. Wood says matters are quiet in Cuba and all preparations are complete for the election in February. Many people, he says, desire annexation but many more want to see the Cuban flag float over Havana Morro, it only for a week.

GEORGE YOUNG

Former Pataskala Man and Mrs. Higgs' Brother-in-Law, Killed in Great Wabash Wreck.

Among the victims of the great Wabash wreck, in which about 100 people were killed and many injured, is Mr. George Young, a former resident of Pataskala, who was killed. Mr. Young was a resident of Kansas City, and was a brother-in-law to Mrs. S. W. Higgs, 101 Buena Vista street, this city. He was about 55 years old.

BLIZZARD

Is Not Thinking of Resigning Though Colonel J. D. Potter May Do So Soon.

The Advocate published an article from Wednesday's Columbus Dispatch saying that Colonel J. D. Potter of the Fourth regiment, O. N. G., and the majors of said regiment, including Major Elmer Blizzard of this city, are thinking of resigning their commissions.

Major Blizzard who was seen by the Advocate this afternoon stated that he himself had heard directly that Colonel Potter is seriously considering resigning owing to business matters, but that he (Blizzard) himself had no thought of tendering his resignation.

PERRY

Cables That Arrangements Have Been Made for the Surrender of Colon.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Captain Perry in command of the U. S. naval forces at the Isthmus of Panama today cabled the Navy Department, indicating a settlement, in part, at least, of the insurrection. His wire reads as follows:

"Colon, Nov. 29.—Arrangements for surrender today of Colon and Liberal forces have been completed.

(Signed) "PERRY."

Washington, Nov. 29.—The State department has received a cablegram from Consul General Gudgeon at Panama stating that the Liberals have been defeated and that the government is in possession of Colon.

TRIAL

OF MRS. BONINE DRAWS BIG CROWD TODAY.

PRISONER SMILED WHILE THE DETECTIVE TOLD

ALL ABOUT THE "CONFESSION."

A Question Asked by Attorney Gould Provoked a Great Roar of Laughter Today.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The court room at the Bonine trial today was packed, half the audience being women.

Dr. Glazebrook was recalled by the government and more fully described the nature and effect of the wounds on Ayres' body, the object being to determine the position of the weapon in relation to its victim at the time of his death. Referring to the bruises on the arms of Mrs. Bonine, the witness thought they were caused by the grip of a thumb and that a man holding in his hand a pistol, could hardly have produced the bruises. As to the scratches on Ayres' legs, District Attorney Gould asked the witness if in his opinion, a small woman wearing French heel slippers, could have inflicted them by jumping up and kicking with both feet. This question caused such a roar of laughter that the court clerk could scarcely suppress the outbreak.

Detective Edward Horne, who arrested Mrs. Bonine and obtained from her the so called "confession," followed Dr. Glazebrook and described her manner, on the day following Ayres' death and many days subsequent. During Horne's recital of the "confession" Mrs. Bonine looked him straight in the eye and smiled all the while. There was an absolute hush in the room as Horne followed up the "confession" how Mrs. Bonine had described the manner in which Ayres had held her, the discharge of the pistol the gush of blood, and all the other details that have heretofore been published.

SCANDAL

Again Excites the People and It is Said the Queen May Apply for a Divorce.

Amsterdam, Nov. 29.—Sensational stories of the Royal scandal are again current. It is not improbable that Queen Wilhelmina will apply for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty and improper behavior on the part of the prince consort Duke Henry of Mecklenburg Schwerin. Public sentiment is intensely with the Queen. Last night a biograph picture of Wilhelmina was displayed at Carré Theatre and was tumultuously cheered, while one of the Prince Consort was loudly hissed. It is said the Prince struck the Queen on one occasion and Emperor William of Germany has sent for him to explain his behavior. Henry still considers the Emperor his over lord. The original cause of the estrangement was the Prince's debts.

A letter received here from a well informed Hague correspondent states: "There is no longer any doubt that the Queen's divorce is due to her consort's ill-treatment. A persona friend of Major Vantets, adjutant of the royal household, tells me that Vantets had the courage to interfere once when the consort had actually struck the queen. This led to a duel in which Vantets was dangerously wounded in the stomach, and now lies at death's door."

"Prince Henry has been absent from the palace, where the Queen still is, since the duel occurred. He is officially described as hunting in Germany, but it is believed he has been summoned by the Kaiser, whom he still regards as his overlord. Kreighshor, to explain his behavior."

"It is now asserted that the Prince was adverse to the marriage from the first, but that the Kaiser insisted on it in view of the increasing German influence in Holland. This is said to explain the unhappy appearance of the prince at the wedding, which was then generally remarked."

"Dowager Queen Emma is heartbroken over the outcome of the marriage and is now endeavoring to effect a reconciliation."

MONEY

In Large Rolls Found in Various Places About the Premises, in All About $7,000.

Ripon, Wis., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Rosanna Fuller, of Lake Junction, died a few days ago. Before she died she called a neighbor to her bedside and told him that if careful search was made among the pottery of the pantry and in a certain bureau drawer some money would be found. A search revealed $1,200 in an old pitner. Continuing the search an old skirt in a bureau drawer yielded seven packages tied with woolen yarn and sewed in the pockets and seams of the dress. These contained $3,500.

Following this $300 in currency was found between the leaves of an old Bible, which also contained securities executed by relatives of the woman and amounting to about $1,000. Six hundred dollars was found behind an old picture on the wall, several hundred more in old tin cans near the wood pile, and various sums in other out of the way places until the whole amounted to about $7,000. About this time, it is said, the husband, Stephen Fuller, dug up in the neighborhood of $2,000 from an old sofa.

Wants a Pardon.

London, Nov. 29.—A petition has been sent to the home secretary asking for the pardon of Miss Marie Josephine Eastwick of Philadelphia, who was sentenced on November 18 to six months imprisonment for attempt to defraud a London broker by raising stock certificates. It is believed the petition will receive favorable consideration.

LOW NAMES PARTRIDGE.

New York, Nov. 29.—Mayor-elect Seth Low this morning announced the appointment of Col. John E. Partridge, as police commissioner to succeed Michael C. Murphy. He will accept.

CHINESE

EXCLUSION ACT WILL CAUSE FIGHT IN CONGRESS.

THOSE WHO WANT TO FAVOR THE CHINESE

TO GET THEIR SHARE OF TRADE

Are on One Side While Labor Unions and Other Powerful Organizations Are on the Other.

Washington, Nov. 29.—One of the biggest fights in the coming session of Congress will be on the extension of the Chinese exclusion act. On one side will be those who want to favor the Chinese, in order that the United States may get a big share of great commerce awaiting development in the Orient. On the other are the labor unions and other powerful organizations, besides the usual arguments which were used with such effect 20 years ago. It is now claimed by some that trusts and combinations are at the back of the opposition which has sprung up against extension of the law. It is declared that they want cheap Chinese labor to enter into competition with white labor here so that they may increase their profits at the expense of the laboring man.

CABINET WILL ATTEND.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Affairs of State were pushed aside at today's cabinet meeting and the President and his advisors launched into a discussion of tomorrow's football game between West Point and Annapolis which they will witness at Philadelphia. It has been decided that the President and his cabinet will spend the first half of the game in the box with the naval rooters and the second half with the army. The army team claims to have the game cinched.

SEVENTY

TOTAL NUMBER OF DEAD IN WABASH WRECK

TRAINS PASSING SCENE OF THE DISASTER TODAY.

THAT MISUNDERSTOOD ORDER

Revised List of the Dead—Early Reports Put Death List at 100—Additional Details.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29.—Engineer Strong, of train No. 4, says he understood his order to read that he was to stop at Sand Creek instead of Seneca, and that Conductor Martin is equally to blame for this understanding of train dispatcher's order from Montpelier, which led to the Wabash wreck Wednesday night. Conductor Martin's wife says her husband admits that his train was in the wrong, but refused to censure anybody. He says Martin pulled the bell rope after passing Seneca, but it was then too late. The order sent out from Montpelier to trains No. 13 and 3 reads: "Number 4, engine 609, will meet number 13, engines 88 and 151, at Seneca, and number 3, engine 623 at Sand Creek." The crew of train number 13 ran entirely on orders. Engineer Strong of number 4 either overran his orders or misunderstood them.

The following is a revised list of the dead: Pr. wn, James, porter, Chicago. Patsdorf, Cal, fireman, Ashley, Ind. Deuell, E. N., Pontiac, Mich. Dowd, W. D., Delray, Mich. Danhart, Lyda, Tupperville, Ont. Wittchell, Job, Detroit.

Youngman, Geo., Kansas City, formerly of Pataskala, O. Unknown woman, quite aged, hand bag of plain black leather found, heaved to belong to her, containing a little Catholic "Agnus Dei," piece of paper with "Pater Ave" written upon it and reddish brown leather eyeglasses case from Boden and company, Philadelphia, containing eyeglasses. There are seven identified dead Italians. Fifteen (Continued on Page 3.)

EXPIRED

When Told of Her Mother's Death a Few Hours Before—Two Funerals Today.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Samuel L. Fields dropped dead yesterday morning on learning of the death of her mother, Mrs. Ezekiel Wrick, that occurred a few hours before.

Mrs. Fields has been an invalid for some time. The sudden shock of her mother's unexpected death was too much for her, and her death was the direct result of the shock.

Mrs. Wrick died at an early hour Thursday at her home 231 Kern place next door to her daughter's home. The body of Mrs. Fields was removed to the home of her mother and the two funerals were held together this morning. The bodies were laid to rest side by side.

Shot His Wife.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 29.—Mrs. John Evans of Mill Run, was accidentally shot in the face by her husband Thursday. Mr. Evans shot at a dog, and hit his wife who was nearby unseen. It is said Mrs. Evans will recover.

A TURN-DOWN FOR HANNA

President Roosevelt Refuses to Appoint a Man to Office at the Senator's Especial Request.

Springfield, O., Nov. 29.—President Roosevelt has declared war on Hanna and the Hanna machine. He is looking out for himself for the presidential nomination in 1904, and is doing everything possible through the medium of plums to weaken Hanna candidacy.

This is the construction placed this week on his premonitory refusal to appoint ex-Congressman Weaver of this city, to the lucrative position at Columbus of State pension agent. Mr. Hanna made a personal appeal in behalf of Weaver, who has been his man Friday, but it fell on deaf ears. In fact, President Roosevelt had served notice that he will not appoint Mr. Weaver.

WILL WED

The Actor and Then Force a Decision on the Odd Clause in Her Father's Will.

New York, Nov. 29.—Louis Herzog, the Philadelphia artist, announces that he and Miss Fanny McComb are to be married. Miss McComb recently failed in her effort to secure a legal judicial interpretation of a clause in her father's will which left her $2,000 if she did not wed Herzog and only $15,000 a year if she did. Miss McComb will force the decision on the odd clause in her father's will after her marriage.

ROMANCE

That Began Fifty Years Ago in Kentucky Resulted in Marriage of Second Cousins.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 29.—Colonel L. N. Norton, of Austin, Texas, and Mrs. Francis C. F. Porter, of Millersburg, Ky., were married here Thanksgiving day. The sentiment which culminated in the wedding began nearly 50 years ago in Nicholas county, Ky., when the parties were quite youthful. They were second cousins and perent opposition stood in the way of their union. Appeals and protests availed nothing, and finally in despair the young man left Kentucky. He was an ardent Southerner, and when secession was declared he took sides with his people and was elected a member of the Confederate Congress. Later he enlisted in the Confederate army under Sterling Price and won his Colonelcy by his bravery on the field. The romance of half a century was revived a few months ago, both in the meantime having been married and lost their partners by death.

PLACED UPON MISS YATES' GRAVE

TRAMPLED UNDER FOOT BY THE DEAD GIRL'S FRIENDS.

HAD BEEN SENT BY MR. BROWN, Who Had Refused to Marry Her and Because of That the Girl Killed Herself.

Cincinnati, Nov. 29.—A sensational scene was enacted at the grave of Florence Yates in St. Josephs cemetery this morning, when Mrs. J. J. Mullane, wife of the confectioner, and a friend of the dead girl, snatched a bunch of a dozen white chrysanthemums from the grave and threw it into the narrow roadway. Not satisfied with that two young women, who worked with Miss Yates at Mullane's, stamped the flowers under their feet and left them in the road to be further mangled by carriages. The flowers were the offerings of William Brown to the memory of the dead girl who had taken her own life for him. Miss Yates committed suicide with carbolic acid Tuesday morning because Brown, who had kept company with her for five years, refused to marry her. Brown testified before the coroner that social and religious differences prevented him from marrying Miss Yates.

CHAFFEE

In Dispatches From Manila Today Tells of an Accident to Transport and Injury to Men.

Washington, Nov. 29.—General Chaffee reports the wreck of the transport Wright in the following cablegram to the war department this morning from Manila.

"The transport Wright struck an uncharted rock south of Daran Island, off entrance to San Juanco straits. Badly injured. Resting quietly on port side; 15 feet water in hold, which rises and falls with the tide. Smith thinks she may be raised with wrecking vessel, but I fear sufficient power cannot be obtained in these waters. Large part of the cargo will be saved in damaged condition. No lives lost. (Signed) "CHAFFEE."

Washington, Nov. 29.—General Chaffee has sent the following cablegram to the war department from Manila: "Lieutenants Foster and Wetherill, 15th U. S. Infantry, badly wounded by bamboo spikes in pitfall near Carmon, Bohol islands. Foster, in foot, Wetherill in thigh. Operation necessary to extract stick. Lieut. Smith slightly hurt. (Signed) "CHAFFEE."

FARMER

Who Gave Harris a Ride Turned Out to be a Brother That He Was Seeking.

Shenandoah, Penn., Nov. 29.—Thirty-two years ago Walter and John Harris left their homes in Akron, O., for the gold fields in Colorado, but en route a wreck occurred in which both men were injured. They were taken to different hospitals where they finally recovered and were discharged. Ever since they have been trying to locate each other.

Wednesday Walter arrived here from Pittsburg on a business mission, and before leaving looked up all the Harris, as is his custom, and was informed that a John Harris resided at Binstown, two miles north of this city. In order to lose no time Harris hailed a farmer, who volunteered to take him to Ringtown. Harris, in the course of conversation, related the story of his long lost brother to the farmer, who suddenly cried out: "Why I am your brother John, and thought you were dead long ago."

Messrs. W. D. Cunningham and Pat Flanagan spent Thanksgiving day at Red Brush hunting. As both are crack shots, the weight of their game bags can be left to imagination.

PARTY OF HYPOCRITES.

There is a colossal flood of gush from the Republican press about the horrors of Tammany rule. There is rejoicing among these hypocrites because of the victory of fusion in New York and the eradication of the evils of Tammany rule that is now promised under Mayor Low. These self same Republicans rejoice in the Republican victory in Philadelphia and in the state of Pennsylvania. This is a most revolting piece of hypocrisy. The extent of the corruption such as reigns in Pennsylvania is shown by the following from the Philadelphia Record, which has Republican inclinations, but which does not hesitate to express the rottenness of Republican rule in that state:

"Some conservative Republicans in various parts of the state, noting the alarming decrease in the Republican majorities at the late election, are warning the party against further adventure under its present corrupt and discredited leadership. Nothing could be more futile than such pleading. How can the Quay leopard change his spots, or the Ashbridge Ethiopian his skin? Those Republicans who have Republicanism nearest at heart are they who have joined enthusiastically in the non-partisan effort to cut out ulcerous dishonesty in the management of the state and municipal affairs, for which the party is justly held responsible. Since they have failed to effect reform within the party lines, they have been driven to the alternative of trying to do what they can outside of party lines. The result of the late election shows that they are on the right track. The state has been carried for a fusion ticket outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and there has been such a shaking of dry bones as has not been witnessed in Pennsylvania for many a day. This is not the time to call a halt. There is a moral victory in sight which will clear the sky and scatter the plunderers."

The success of the submarine torpedo boat Fulton marks what may turn out a new and powerful development of methods in naval warfare. After other exacting trials the Fulton crowned all the tests by remaining under water with a half-dozen on board for fifteen hours. The boat was sunk about fifteen feet and the immersion was during the great gale that prevailed along the coast on Saturday and Sunday. The men on board ate and slept and played cards and told stories without disturbance, and with their craft came to the surface at the appointed time. A fleet of such torpedo boats could speedily make an ending of a hostile fleet, and thirty of them could be constructed for the cost of one battleship.

The terms of the canal treaty with Great Britain are said to be secret, but at the same time it is authoritatively announced that Great Britain withdraws from any claim to control of the canal and gives up any right of joint authority that it may have had under any former treaty. Very probably that is the substantial provision of the treaty, for no other arrangement could be tolerated. If there is to be an isthmian canal it must be under American control. Even Great Britain recognizes that fact.

Kitchener has reported again. This time he says that at the present rate of progress there is no doubt as to the ultimate result of the war. There is no doubt in the world. At the "present rate of progress" the Boers are sure to win out, but it will take a little time. Kitchener must not get impatient.

Hay and Pauncelote are busy festooning one another with bouquets. With them the canal treaty is a case of "flower for flower."

HOSPITAL

Course of Entertainments for the Season—How Many Tickets Do You Want?

The Hospital ladies have secured an array of talent for the entertainment of the Newark people that simply astound. In fact no city in the state brings so many big things at once, and the ladies hope to wipe out the debt of the hospital. Just look at the list of great artists that will be heard for $1.

Hildegard Hoffman, New York City's great soprano. She alone is a big attraction for any city in the United States.

Kathryn McGucken, Philadelphia's greatest contralto and soloist in the cathedral.

E. Elsworth Giles, said by many to be the finest tenor in the east, shared honors with Blauvelt at the Maine festivals and outgave his reputation.

Edward Brigham, New York City's bass profundo, and sings bass for the Mozart Club of Pittsburgh in December in their production of the Messiah at $150 for one performance.

Reahard, the piano soloist, of Pittsburgh, will accompany these four great artists.

Ernest Gamble, America's popular basso.

Frederick Morley, the Australian pianist, first season in America, arriving October 1st, after spending three years with the great Leschetzki.

Grace Jenkins, the violinist, now two years with the Ernest Gamble company, three years a pupil in Berlin.

The Persian Garden company, with Miss Rachel Freese soprano—an Ohio singer who has come to the front faster than any soprano in this country for years past.

Miss Winifred Reahard, contralto; Sam T. Beddoe, tenor; Daniel T. Moore, basso, and Julia T. Parks, pianist.

The hospital association agree to furnish all the above named artists on three different periods of time, commencing after the holidays, for the almost nameless price of $1.

And to make a big financial success for the hospital the board of managers want 1,000 tickets subscribed before next Saturday night. Do not wait to be solicited. Send a postal card by first mail with the number of tickets desired, to any member of the board.

WOMEN WILL VOTE In 1914

By Mrs. RUSSELL SAGE

IF I READ THE SIGNS ARIGHT, THE WOMEN OF NEW YORK STATE AT LEAST WILL CAST A BALLOT ON ELECTION DAY IN THE YEAR 1914.

I specify that year in particular because that is the year of the next constitutional convention. Amendments to our constitution can be made only once in twenty years, and the last convention was held in 1894.

In thirteen years from now I firmly believe that the suffrage movement will have advanced to the point where the necessary amendment to the constitution, urged by a monster petition of women who own property, will be passed by the legislative bodies of New York state, and when once the women of the Empire State go to the polls the women of all the states of the Union will be given the same right.

I NEED NOT NOW SPELL OUT THE SIGNS OR TRANSLATE THEM. THEY CAN BE READ BETWEEN THE LETTERS OF THE SIGNIFICANT WORD PROGRESS.

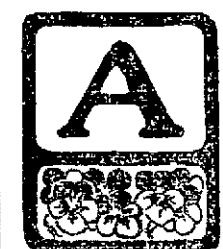

But if a doubt exists in the minds of some people that the woman suffrage movement which flowed like a tidal wave over the country in 1894 has subsided so much as to be harmless I can only say to people of such belief, Wait until 1914. The question lies at present in silence, I grant, but it is a silence that is portentous. This is the period of preparation, the period of thought, upon which action is sure to follow. Meanwhile it seems too bad that women who own real estate and pay taxes are not allowed to cast a ballot. Why, the men of this country themselves went to war because of taxation without representation. The women of New York state alone pay taxes on $1,000,000,000 worth of real estate, yet they are not allowed a voice in the practical government of the state to which they contribute so much revenue.

Among the good things that will result from woman suffrage is that of reclaiming national and municipal buildings and thoroughfares from the present uncleanness. The uncleanness exists because the housekeepers are men at present. But in the nation and the municipality, as in the home, the housekeepers should be the women. Therefore I foresee that, WHEN WOMEN VOTE THERE WILL BE A NATIONAL HOUSECLEANING SUCH AS NO NATION EVER SAW. Once armed with the ballot, then the mop, the broom and the bucket will be decidedly more in evidence in the places in which they are most needed.

Today is not too soon to invite the attention of every American woman to the fact that every possible recruit should be enlisted in the appealing army of 1914. It is not too soon to begin work.

THE PULPIT NOT FOR PARTISAN DISCUSSION

By Bishop HENRY C. POTTER

CLERGYMAN has no right to discuss any political meeting from his pulpit—that is, he has the right, backed by the teachings of Jesus Christ, to discuss how those reforms can be brought about. As an ecclesiastic he has a right to discuss these questions, but not as a partisan.

WHEN A BISHOP OR MINISTER USES HIS PULPIT AS A PLACE FOR PARTISAN DISCUSSION, HE STRIKES HIS FIRST BLOW AGAINST THE PEOPLE, WHO LOOK UP TO HIM. When I come to church, I come to worship God, and I maintain the right that no one has the privilege to divert my mind from that.

Salisbury Misunderstood.

London, Nov. 29.—In an important speech at Croydon the Rt. Hon. C. L. Ritchie, secretary of state for some affairs, declared that Premier Salisbury's statement that "no shred of independence should be left to the republics" had been twisted and contorted in a way Lord Salisbury never intended. "It was not intended," he said, "that the Boers should not have a representative in the government or that we insisted upon unconditional surrender except in the sense that we could not again offer the terms which had been rejected."

Kansas City Victim.

Kansas City, Nov. 29.—George W. Youmans, 58, one of the victims of the Washburn wreck, was a well known building and paving contractor and a member of the board of public works of Kansas City. He erected many of the large buildings in Kansas City and has held heavy contracts throughout the southwest. Mr. Youmans is father of Frank E. Youmans, a well-known young broker who was arrested recently on a charge of embezzlement.

Bought Battle Abbey.

London, Nov. 29.—The mystery surrounding the sale of Battle Abbey at public auction has been solved by the announcement that Sir Augustus Frederick Webster, Bart., is the purchaser. The new owner is a descendant of Sir Thomas Webster, who bought the abbey from Viscount Montagu in 1719, and whose family retained possession of it 130 years.

The News Killed Her.

Knoxville, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Samuel L. Fields dropped dead at her home in this city a few seconds after being informed of the death of her mother, Mrs. Ezekiel Wyrick. The families lived next door to each other. The bodies of mother and daughter lie side by side in the parlor of the old family residence.

Detroit Horror.

Detroit, Mo., Nov. 29.—The list of victims of the Penberthy injector works boiler explosion will probably remain at 30, two more bodies having been recovered. All the injured in the hospitals are reported as making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

General Young.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 29.—General William Hugh Young, 66, died at his home here. He was made colonel in the Confederate army at Shiloh, and after the fall of Atlanta he succeeded to the command of Rector's brigade.

Crushed by a Log.

Napoleon, O., Nov. 29.—While unloading logs Mat Weisner, living west of Florida, was caught by a log in such a manner that it threw him and the log rolled over him, crushing his body and breaking his neck.

Drowned While Skating.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 29.—Two young boys named Douglas and Mattison were drowned at Wonewoc while skating on the Wisconsin river. The bodies were recovered.

Boiler Explosion.

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 29.—John Hall, an engineer, and E. D. Robinson, were killed by the explosion of a boiler at the Ida zinc mining plant near here.

JAS. H. FARRELL, A PROMINENT CHICAGO MAN.

And the Oldest Member of the Illinois House of Representatives Makes a Recommendation.

James H. Farrell of Chicago is one of the best known figures in the Democratic politics of that city. For years he has been marshal of the famous Cook County Democracy Marching Club, which has participated in Democratic campaigns in behalf of the states of the union, and which went to New York especially to assist in the election of Mayor Van Wyck.

Capt. Farrell is the oldest member of the Illinois House of Representatives in point of service, having been a member continuously since 1887. His constituents have elected him eight times. He has been a leader in that body from the beginning of his career and is one of the best known figures in Illinois politics.

Capt. Farrell is 59 years of age and one of the best preserved men for his years in the Illinois Legislature, despite his arduous and constant duties in that body. Mr. Farrell is engaged in the real estate business in Chicago. Under date of March 14, 1901, he writes as follows:

Springfield, Ill.

Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill.

Mrs. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Gentlemen:—I have found after a thorough trial that your Syrup Pepsin is a most excellent and successful remedy for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Sick Headache. It is most effective and pleasing in all cases of this nature, and it is with pleasure I recommend it to others.

Respectfully Yours,

JAS. H. FARRELL.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound is guaranteed to cure all forms of stomach trouble, biliousness, sick headache, indigestion and constipation. Not an irritant but a corrective. Sold in 50¢ and $1 bottles at Hall's and Johnson's Drug Stores.

RAILROADS.

THE DENNISON SHOPS.

It is reported from reliable authority that $125,000 has been appropriated by the Pan Handle for enlarging the Dennison shops and yards and that the work will begin soon after the first of the coming year.—Exchange.

B. & O. BOND ISSUE APPROVED.

New York, Nov. 29.—From information obtained it appears that the financial plans which the B. & O. railroad has in view for the Pittsburgh & Western Railroad comprehend the unification into a distinct system not only of the Pittsburgh & Western, but of numerous other lines in West Virginia and Ohio between the great lakes and the coal fields of West Virginia. The new division will be known as the B. & O. Pittsburgh, Lake Erie and West Virginia system, and will unite about 1,000 miles of railroad. The large amount of money

A proposed increase of 20 per cent in Baltimore & Ohio stock is one feature of the plan for the reorganization of the Pittsburgh & Western road. It will provide about $22,400,000 new common stock. The reorganization plan is expected shortly, probably during the present week. Under it will be authorized a bond issue of upward of $60,000,000, of which about $20,000,000 will be immediately issued to the public. The character of the bond will be in the nature of a collateral trust and general lien bond, unifying all outstanding issues of the property taken over by the new division, and becoming eventually a first mortgage on the property.

The purpose of the reorganization is to eventually have the bonds of each division cover the property of the division alone, in the same way with the Pittsburgh & Western as now exists with the B. & O. S. W. The working out of the plan through a collateral trust issue is due, it is said, to the large holdings of the B. & O. road in Pittsburgh & Western and other lines contemplated in the plan.

TO ISSUE NEW STOCK.

Circulars have been issued by the B. & O. railroad company to stockholders of voting trust certificates that are attracting considerable attention in railroad and financial circles. They are offered the privilege of subscribing at par between December 24 and 31, 1901, inclusive, for common capital stock to the amount of 20 per cent. of their respective holdings as they stand registered on December 10, 1901.

TO CEATE A NEW SYSTEM.

The creation of a new system will be the feature of the new financial arrangements of the B. & O. railroad. The newly created system will be known as the B. & O. Pittsburgh, Lake Erie and Western system. It will be indicated by its title, be made up of the lanes of the B. & O. extending from the great lakes to the coal fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. This plan will bring together into a compact system about 1,600 miles of railroad. The lines to be included are as follows: Pittsburgh & Western system; Pittsburgh, Cleveland & Toledo; Pittsburgh, Painesville & Fairport; Cleveland Terminal & Valley; Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling; Ohio river system; West Virginia Short Line; lines composing Pittsburgh & Middle Junction division; Central Ohio; Sandusky, Mansfield & Newark; Newark, Somerset & Stratsville; Baltimore & Ohio holdings in the Pittsburgh Junction railroad; West Virginia & Pittsburgh; Monongahela river railroad—Columbus Dispatch.

Roebuck of the C. & N. division, is off on a short leave of absence.

Conductor W. S. Wharton, of the L. E. division, who has been laying off for a short time, has returned to work. Conductor John Atherton, of the C. O. division, is off duty on account of sickness.

Brakeman J. W. Bratton of the C. O. division, after having been off for a short time, has resumed work. Brakeman W. L. McIntosh of the C. & N. division is off duty with an injured foot.

Brakeman D. O. Linn of the C. O. division is working again after a short leave of absence.

Brakeman C. C. McMullen, Fred Brocker, W. N. Pinauk, A. Berry, W. Ingraham and J. C. Woolford have all O. K'd for work on the C. O. division.

William Hutt, a freight carpenter at the B. & O. shops was painfully injured while at work Wednesday morning. He was engaged in removing old sills with a lever from a gondola car when a falling trestle board struck the lever which he was using. This caused the lever to fly up striking Mr. Hutt in the face, badly injuring him. —Zanesville Times-Recorder.

VOTED TO STRIKE.

Pittsburg, Nov. 29.—There appears to be no radical change in the switchmen's strike situation. At a meeting of strikers 33 new members were taken in. Six men known as "extras" in the Pennsylvania yard joined the strikers, but their places were filled. A report from McKeesport says that at a meeting of the switchmen a general strike order was issued for that city. This will call out 10 crews on the Baltimore and Ohio and 20 crews employed by the tube works and the Monongahela furnaces. It was said that Superintendent English at Versailles was compelled to make up the trains himself owing to the strike. It is likely the McKeesport lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will follow the lead of the Pittsburgh lodges in ignoring the strike. The striking switchmen held an exciting meeting in McKeesport Saturday where over 300 strikers and sympathizers present. At the meeting 119 new members were initiated into the Switchmen's Union of North America. Of these 119 were members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

GLASS MEN

Who Worked Thanksgiving Morning Served With a Dinner at the Plant by Mr. Everett.

On Thanksgiving the employees who worked during the morning at the E. H. Everett glass factory, were invited by Mr. Everett to partake of a sumptuous dinner at the expense of the firm.

The invitation came in the nature of a surprise to the men but they gladly and did justice to the spread, which was served by Mr. F. G. Warden in the "little amber."

After dinner Mr. David E. Jones, on behalf of the employees extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Everett and also complimented Captain Warden on the excellent service.

TERRY

YIELDS CHAMPIONSHIP TO "YOUNG CORBIT"

WHO PUT IT ALL OVER HIM IN TWO ROUNDS.

LITTLE CHAMPION LOST HEAD.

Showed Lack of Self Restraint and a Burst of Bad Temper Just Before He Went Out.

Hartford, Nov. 29.—Terry McGovern was knocked out by the Nutmeg Athletic club by "Young Corbett" within six minutes from the start of the fight. The end came after a minute and 44 seconds of the second round had elapsed. "Young Corbett," who, outside of ring parlance, is known as Billy Rothwell of Denver, Colo., not only defeated the champion in less than two rounds of fighting, but he did it so perfectly that there was no doubt about the cleanness of his victory.

From the very start of the battle the sturdy lads went at each other like game cocks, and it looked as if either might go out in the first round. McGovern got the worst of the opening round, and in his endeavor to get in left himself open several times. Corbett stood off McGovern on every lead and trick, but the little Brooklyn boy went on as if there were nothing in it but the winner's end of the purse. When McGovern was knocked down in the opening round there were cries of dismay from his backers, but his wonderful recuperative powers were equal to the occasion, and he was on his feet within seven seconds. This downfall seemed to take the stamina out of McGovern, but he fought the round out in clever style and tried hard to avoid the defeat which seemed in store for him. He tried all his rushing work, which had proved so profitable on former occasions, but Corbett met him every time and countered hard on neck, jaw and head. When Terry came back to his corner at the end of the first round he said: "That's the toughest guy I ever met, but I'll lick him just as soon as I see an opening." But it never came.

Terry went down again in the second round, but he got up quickly and rushed at Corbett like a wild man. He showed a lack of self-restraint and in a burst of bad temper hit out left and right irrespective of all rules and usages. These tactics apparently were just what Corbett was looking for. Terry was mixing things up with whirlwind velocity and throwing science to the winds. It was any one's fight at this stage but Terry fell into a trap as Corbett feigned and suddenly sent his right out when McGovern was sidestepping. This blow just grazed McGovern's head, but a moment later Corbett feigned him again, and, after a rattling exchange, sent his right over to the jaw and Terry went down and out. While the fallen champion was frantically trying to regain his feet the crowd yelled madly. The referee declared that the young Denver lad had won. He won on his merits, too, as he took chance for chance.

Young Corbett, when he emerged from his dressing room, was reluctant to talk, but finally said: "I was sure I could beat McGovern, and my opinion was based on what I had seen and heard. I felt that I had him from the first punch, but I was cool-headed all through. When I began to sting him he lost his head, and when he lost his head it was all over."

Terry was crestfallen when he returned to his dressing room. He said: "Well, you can't tell how things can be accounted for. I hope to make another match with Corbett and I am more than confident that he will not be able to put it over me again."

Pete Jackson Was Gamed.

Baltimore, Nov. 29.—Joe Walcott got the decision over Young Peter Jackson before the Eureka Athletic club here after 20 rounds of perhaps the fiercest fighting ever seen in this city, most of which was done by Walcott. Jackson being on the defensive from start to finish Jackson stood fully three inches above Walcott, but lacked his sturdy build. Walcott sailed in from the very first with the evident intention of finishing his man as soon as possible, and between laughs and jokes with the spectators at the ringside rained blow after blow upon the Californian. The latter, however, took his grueling with remarkable gameness.

Hooted the Referee. Detroit, Nov. 29.—Rube Feus of Buffalo was given the decision over Charlie Thurston of San Francisco after 15 rounds of fast fighting. Referee Hogan's decision caused the spectators, who remained for some time after the bout, to express their dissatisfaction in hisses and howls. Thurston was much the quicker on his feet and ducked and blocked beautifully. Feus' blows, however, were more effective, and this undoubtedly gave him the decision.

After Young Corbett.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Three challenges were sent to Young Corbett by Chicago featherweights, Harry Harris, Tommy White and Benny Yanger. Yanger put up a deposit of $1,000 and agrees to meet Corbett for any number of rounds and at any weight. Corbett was knocked out by Yanger in eight rounds last winter. A few months later they met for the second time and fought 10 rounds to a draw.

A BOY'S VOW

"Mr. Wingrove, you haven't asked about Claire. Don't you ever speak of her?"

"Never; on my honor."

"Oh!"

"My dear Mrs. Kingston, this is scarcely reasonable. Of course I had a great deal of respect for your daughter, and so on, but she threw me over for that other fellow, and I went to the Cape. I tried not only to forget my trouble, but to forget her as well. That was the only thing to do. Wasn't it?"

"Did you succeed?"

No answer.

"Have you quite forgotten, Mr. Wingrove?"

"Well—of course—that is—yes!"

"Then why have you come to see me?"

"Surely we are old friends. Remember how kind you were to me when I was a student at Heidelberg. Your house was a home to me at a time when I most needed good influences, and when she joined you and I began to love her I don't know whether you saw how things were going, but you were so kind and helpful that my time there was the best and happiest I have ever known. And then, when it all turned out wrong and everything seemed going round, your gentle sympathy steadied me, and I got through somehow."

"I was so sorry for you, poor boy!"

"You have always been good to me, and, though goodness knows I'm nothing to boast of, if it hadn't been for you I don't know where I should have landed. A fellow doesn't forget these things, Mrs. Kingston, though at the time he may not quite understand them."

"By the way, Mr. Wingrove, do you still care for Claire?"

"Mrs. Kingston, what a question!"

"Do you?"

"Really—but, hang it all—you must not ask me that. It isn't right—indeed it isn't."

"Don't you know? Didn't they ever tell you?" She's a widow, Mr. Wingrove.

"Claire a widow! But how? When?"

"He died more than a year ago; influenza—quite unexpected. It was so sad."

"And I have been away all this time without knowing a word about it! Heavens! I don't care who hears it now. I may speak. I love her just as much as ever, and, by Jove, she must marry me! Claire free!"

"Hush, Mr. Wingrove. I am very sorry I spoke about it, but I thought—I hoped—you had really forgotten her. Oh, why did you come back just at this moment? Claire is not free."

"I don't—understand."

"She is going to marry John Mearnsdale. He was one of your rivals, you will remember, and, though I don't think she ever liked him in the way she did you, he pleaded so hard and was so devoted that at last she took him. You know what an extraordinary fascination she has over men. Ever since I can remember, even when she was the merest schoolgirl, they have come round her and liked to look at her and hear her talk. There is something magnetic about her, I suppose, but where she gets it from?"

"Who knows better than I how hopelessly irresistible she is? But never mind that now. What I want to know is why didn't you or somebody let me know what had happened and give me another chance. I know she liked me better than Mearnsdale. She often told me so. After all that there was between us, was it fair or kind to leave me sticking out there while he had everything his own way here?"

"But, my dear boy, how could we write to you after that vow you took?"

"Vow! In heaven's name, what vow?"

"Can you have forgotten?"

(Opens an escritoire and produces a manuscript.)

If you are true, no love more true than mine shall be bestowed on you; But if you're false, then go your way And trouble not goodly to say.

For this I vow, by all most dear—I will not give you one poor heart.

One moment's thought, one slight regret, I'll hasten to unlearn—forget.

"Mrs. Kingston, you don't mean to say that absurd jingle prevented you from writing to me?"

"You signed it, Mr. Wingrove."

"Signed it! I've signed a thousand idiotic things that ought never to be made hanging on me. Why, I was about nineteen when I wrote it—a mere irresponsible boy. Look at it. Wretched stuff, such as all boys write when they're in love for the first time, which ought to be swept together and burned by the common hangman. She can't have believed it."

"She did, though, and so did I. You were always so earnest in what you said and did. I remember her telling me after you had given it her that she felt quite certain that if, after all, she did not marry you, you would never come near her or think kindly of her again."

"Oh, but women are impossible. When you tell them all day long that you love them they won't believe you, and then they go and put all their faith in a miserable bit of paper like this. (Throws it savagely into the fire.) There! It's done its mischief now. But for that I might have been the happiest man in the world, and now—"

"My poor, poor boy, I am so sorry for you. What will you do?"

"Oh, let me go away! I am the biggest of fortune's fools."

PRINCESS VIROQUA, M. D.

Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After Following Its Record For Years.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Health is the greatest boon bestowed on humanity and therefore anything that can restore lost health is a blessing. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a blessing to State and Nation. It cures her mothers and daughters and makes them well and strong."

PRINCESS VIROQUA, Practicing Physician and Lecturer.

"For fifteen years I have noted the effect of your Vegetable Compound in curing special diseases of women."

"I know of nothing superior for ovarian trouble, barrenness, and it has prevented hundreds of dangerous operations where physicians claimed it was the only chance to get well. Ulceration and inflammation of the womb has been cured in two or three weeks through its use, and as I find it purely an herbal remedy, I unhesitatingly give it my highest endorsement. —Fraternal yours, DR. P. VIROQUA, Lansing, Mich. —$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine."

If you are ill do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for special advice; it is entirely free.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A CURE FOR IT.

Not a Patent Cure All, Nor a Modern Miracle but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making undue claims of false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspeptic Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic of nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Any druggist will tell you Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give universal satisfaction.

FIRE

DOES DAMAGE AT SEVERAL PLACES

MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE IN NEW YORK CITY.

A CINCINNATI CLOAK HOUSE

Damaged by Fire—Blaze in a Factory That Rapidly Spread—Brooklyn Visited, Too.

New York, Nov. 29.—A fierce fire broke out in the vicinity of Ninth street and the East river. Several firemen were hurt, but none seriously. The blaze started in the plant of W. E. Uptegrove & Brothers, manufacturers of boxes, veneers and fine woodwork, and this firm was the principal sufferer. One of its buildings was a 7-story structure, while those surrounding it were 1-story buildings. All the Uptegrove & Brothers' mill was destroyed. From the Standard Oil company's depot on Eleventh street thousands of gallons of oil were drained into the river, to prevent a great explosion and resulting conflagration. What started the fire is not known.

After the fire was thought to be under control it broke out again and spread to the works of the Mutual Gas company. This outbreak was caused by a fireman dropping a burning wad into the street. The street was flooded with water, on which was a thick coating of oil. This ignited and the flames leaped into the gas company's property. The fire then turned back across the street and the immense store of lumber owned by Hegemeyer & Sons was ignited. It comprised about 18,000,000 feet of valuable wood. The lumber yards of J. M. Saulpaugh were also reached by the flames and great damage done.

Fire Chief Croker estimated that the total damage would approximate $1,000,000. He estimated that the loss to J. M. Saulpaugh would be $125,000; William T. Uptegrove & Brothers, $250,000; Mutual Gas company, $100,000; G. N. Hegemeyer, $150,000; Standard Oil company, $75,000.

The extensive establishment of the National Enamelling and Stamping company in Brooklyn were entirely destroyed by fire, and George Koch, a watchman, was burned to death. The loss will be more than $500,000. The plant occupied nearly an entire block and the buildings were filled with timbers of every description. The fire spread rapidly and the heat became so intense that 20 firemen were overcome and had to be carried away.

Flames at Cincinnati.
Cincinnati, Nov. 29.—The building at 316 and 318 Race street, occupied by the Cincinnati Cloak and Suit company and the Belding Silk company, was damaged by fire to the extent of $150,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance. The St. Nicholas hotel, near by, was at no time in danger, as the heroic work of the firemen prevented the flames from spreading beyond the cloak company building.

Block in Ruins.
Yankton, S. D., Nov. 29.—The Union block, the best business block in the city, was destroyed by fire. Loss $100,000. William Pierson, city marshal, slept in the building, and jumped from a third story window and was fatally injured. Several people were rescued from the upper stories with ropes.

Costly Fire.
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 29.—A fire in Michael Boyle's evaporated fruit establishment caused a loss of $50,000.

Smallpox Among Hogs.
Buffalo, Nov. 29.—Dr. C. H. Zink, inspector in charge of the United States bureau of animal industry at the East Buffalo stock yards, discovered what he believes to be a outbreak of smallpox among a consignment of hogs. The animals were received from St. Louis last week and they passed the first inspection. After they had been slaughtered Dr. Zink, in making a microscopic examination for the viscera, discovered what he believed to be evidence of smallpox.

Juror Asphyxiated.
Des Moines, Nov. 29.—Charles Meinkey of Montanella, Ia., a juror in the Balliett mining case, now on trial in the United States district court, was found dead in his room in the Gracie House. It was evident that he blew out the gas before retiring and was asphyxiated. His death will not interfere with the trial and the case will proceed with 11 jurors. Meinkey was a farmer and estimated to be worth $50,000.

Governor Taft Improving.
Cincinnati, Nov. 29.—Ex-Congressman Charles P. Taft, brother of Governor General William H. Taft, received a cablegram from Manila stating that Surgeons Stafford and Rhodes have successfully grafted the skin on Governor Taft's wound, and he will probably be able to pay his projected visit to the United States at the end of December.

Transport on the Rocks.
Washington, Nov. 29.—A brief dispatch came to the war department from General Chaffee confirming the press report of the wreck of the transport Wright. Chaffee's dispatch was very brief, saying simply that the vessel had struck an uncharted rock and that the question of the rescue of the vessel was problematical.

Membership Ticket is Suggested as a Suitable Christmas Present for That Young Man.

(Newark's Young Men.)

The Christmas Season is fast approaching and the thought that is uppermost in the minds of all humanity is "What shall I give my friends that would be acceptable and would serve to convey a lasting remembrance of me." If the friends in question are of the gentler sex, we would suggest that you ask the advice of a lady friend—provided she be not the recipient. But, if you are thinking of a suitable present for a gentleman friend, and one that will give untold pleasure to the recipient—as well as profitable enjoyment—for every day in the coming year, we would suggest a membership in the Young Men's Christian Association of Newark, O.

Let us give you three good reasons: 1st.—It will be the means of providing him with a ticket which will entitle him to the privileges of a well equipped gymnasium, shower bath, swimming-pool, game-room, library, reading room, participation in the social functions of the Association, and the society of over 400 of Newark's best representative young men.

2nd.—It will secure for him the privileges of any Association in the country, so that he may enjoy the same privileges when away from home (if he is in a city where there is an Association) as he could in his own home Association.

3rd.—Last but not least, it will give him the chance to become a well-rounded man socially, physically, morally and intellectually. It will place him among influences that tend to develop the best that is in a man and make him feel his responsibility to his Creator.

Can you think of a better Christmas present? Can you suggest one that would give more genuine pleasure to the recipient? Could you invest a $5 bill to a better advantage?

When you have answered these questions satisfactorily to yourself, try the experiment of this Christmas present and see the result.

STEWARDS

Charged With Smuggling on Their Arrival in New York—Five Men are Arrested.

New York, Nov. 29.—Five steamer stewards employed by one of the transatlantic lines were arrested in Hoboken by customs inspectors, who found the stewards' clothing lined with Sumatra leaf tobacco, which is very costly. Inspector O'Hare said that the men were engaged in a systematic attempt to pass the tobacco into the United States without paying duty. He said that there was evidence that for some time past the goods had been regularly delivered to a prominent tobacconist in New York.

Comet Sighted.
Chicago, Nov. 29.—A comet was visible in the southern sky. Its position as viewed from the auditorium tower, in which the United States weather bureau is situated, was about 10 degrees southeast from the zenith. It was difficult to judge of its length, for the reason that it was pointed directly upward and was apparently going from the earth, but Professor Cox, in charge of the bureau, said that, in his judgment, it was about two degrees long.

Clever Mill.
Savannah, Ga., Nov. 29.—Tommy Feltz of Brooklyn and Tony Moran of New York met under the auspices of the Savannah Athletic club for a 25-round boxing contest. The mill was to be at 113 pounds, but Moran could not make the weight and the fight went at catch weights. The contest, very fast and clever, went the limit and was declared a draw. Moran was about eight pounds overweight.

Floater Found.
Pine Bluff, Ark., Nov. 29.—The dead body of J. A. Johnson, formerly a prominent citizen of Elgin, Ill., was found in the Arkansas river here. Johnson disappeared about two weeks ago. It is thought he committed suicide by drowning. His mother resides at Elgin, Ill., and a sister, Miss Lottie Johnson, lives in Milwaukee. He was 36 years old.

In Collision.
Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 29.—A special train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad bearing 380 Syracuse Knights of Columbus, northbound, was reported in a rear-end collision at Tully. Meager reports say a few are injured, although no serious casualties are now known.

Electric Cars Collide.
Anderson, Ind., Nov. 29.—An electric car loaded with 25 glassblowers, collided with a coal car while returning to the city from the factory. All of the workmen were more or less injured and three will probably die.

POOL TABLE POCKETS.

They Are Made For the Most Part in Farmers' Houses.

"An odd occupation, surely," said a man acquainted with the business, "is that of knitting pool table pockets. A few persons find steady employment at it, but the greater number of those engaged in it take it up incidentally to some other employment."

"Of all the pool pockets used the largest proportion is made in farmhouses by farmers' wives and daughters. The women who do this work are mostly Germans and Swedes."

"Pool table pockets are all handmade. The largest producer of pool pockets is a concern in New York that employs at this work about thirty families, these mostly residing on Long Island. The bundles of material for the several families thus employed are made up in the shop and delivered to them, the finished pockets being at the same time collected."

"The knitting is done with a needle twenty inches in length, and the pockets are knitted with a peculiar knot that will not pull out. You might cut a hole in a pocket with a knife, but the hole would go no farther. As the pocket is knitted it will not pull or draw apart."

"Pool pockets are made of cotton of wool and of silk. The first are sold for $1.25 or thereabouts a dozen. Silk pockets sell for about $10 a dozen."

"I should say that of all the pockets made perhaps half are of cotton, three-eighths of wool and one-eighth of silk. The pockets are most commonly green, but they are made in other colors as well—in purple, for example, and in yellow and in blue for tables with cloths in those colors."

"Output? Well, the production of them is somewhat scattered. I should say that it might amount annually to about 10,000 dozen, valued on an average, roughly estimated, at $4 a dozen, making the total value of the output somewhere about $40,000."—New York Sun.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

A soft linen bandage saturated with a 1 per cent solution of carbolic acid is excellent for a blistered finger.

To relieve a nervous headache apply hot water to the temples and back of the neck. A hot footbath will also materially aid.

Earsache can frequently be cured by wringing out a flannel in boiling water, sprinkling a few drops of laudanum on it and applying it to the ear.

A small quantity of vinegar will generally destroy immediately any insect that may find its way into the stomach, and a little salad oil will kill any insect that may enter the ear.

When your feet are very tired and hot, plunge them into a basin of cold water and keep them there until a sensation of warmth begins. Then dry them and put on fresh stockings and shoes.

A writer states that a tea-spoonful of finely grated nutmeg in a tumblerful of cold water taken night and morning the first day and then morning a day, repeated on the third day, is a sure cure for hoars.

A Four Footed Bird.
There is a four footed bird, the Opisthocomus erinaceus, which has such anomalies of structure that it is impossible to class it along with any other family. It is one of those survivors which tell us of extinct groups of whose past existence we would otherwise have remained forever ignorant. These, the only species of four footed birds, inhabit the island of Marajo in the lower Amazon. It is only during infancy that this remarkable feature of these birds is seen, the two fore feet appearing early in the development of the embryo and continuing perfectly formed for several days after hatching, when they are gradually shed. It is also known as the hoatzin or evil smelling bird, the flesh having an unpleasant odor, making it unpalatable to both man and carnivorous animals, which is probably one cause of its survival.

RIDING IN CHINA.
Using the Donkey, the Shenzu and the Wheelbarrow.

Here comes a gorgeously clad lady riding a donkey, her husband by her side. She rides straddle legs, but round her is drawn an embroidered petticoat displaying all its beauties when riding, her face is painted and powdered, her lower lip is one large dab of vermillion, and her wonderfully dressed hair is shining with grease and gum. She wears no hat, however hot the day, but she carries a fan or an oil paper parasol, and she looks very glum as the barbarian passes, for he is not supposed to see her, though very probably she stoops and chatters to her lord and master once he is well out of the way.

Next there comes a shenzu—that is, a long chair with a hood hung between two poles walking tandem fashion. Sometimes there is another lady dressed woman in it sometimes a magistrate or other grandee, but oftentimes of all one the shrieking, creaking wheelbarrows, the universal vehicle of China.

The wheel is in the middle, and there is a seat on either side and the way those tortured wheels cry out is excruciating, the air is full of the sound. The Chinaman cannot be prevailed upon to grease them. In the first place, he is economical and would not waste the grease and in the next he looks upon a silent wheel with suspicion. "Would you have him going like a thief," he asks plaintively.

Nevertheless these wheelbarrows are the only wheeled vehicles, and a coolie will wheel two men and their baggage easily. The bishop of northern China declares he has traveled thousands of miles on a wheelbarrow.—Empire Review.

THE FIRST CAMERA.

It Was Invented by an Italian in the Sixteenth Century.

The camera was invented by an Italian named Baptista Porta, though it was not at first used for photographic purposes. It was in reality merely a dark room, into which the light was admitted through a little round hole in one side. The rays of light coming from objects outside of this room entered it through this aperture and made a picture on the other side of the room glowing in all the beauty and color of nature itself, but rather indistinct and upside down.

This dark room was contrived by Porta about the middle of the sixteenth century. He improved it later by placing a glass lens in the aperture and outside a mirror which received the rays of light and reflected them through the lens so that that image upon the opposite wall within was made much brighter, more distinct and in a natural or erect position. This was really the first camera obscura, an invention which is enjoyed to the present day, being situated often upon a hilltop, where a picturesque country surrounding may be reflected through a lens which is placed in the center of the conical roof.

Now our modern photographic camera is merely a small camera obscura in its simplest form, carrying a lens at one end and a ground glass screen at the other. It is, however, often much more complicated in its construction.

COMMENTS

NEWARK PEOPLE

MADE ON THE THANKSGIVING DAY SERMON

Of the Rev. Arthur E. Johnson in Reference to the South African Boers by M. R. S.

(Communicated)

In your report of the very able and excellent Thanksgiving sermon delivered by the Rev. A. E. Johnson, I find a sentence like the following: "The most awful example of the folly of falling behind the age and failing to keep step with progress is the story of the Boers of South Africa."

I have no desire to join issue with Brother Johnson in reference to the unprogressive spirit and character of the Boers; but admitting all that he claims on that point if he meant—as his language certainly implies—to justify the inauguration and prosecution of this war by the British nation—which prosecution of the war is very much after the manner of the Spaniards—his position is very inconsistent with the other portions of his discourse, in which he argued so clearly and forcibly that the plan of human progress is divine, not human or Satan's, and that this progress must ever be moral and spiritual rather than material or intellectual.

Moreover, there are many other nations and peoples on the earth—perhaps the majority of its population—who from Mr. Johnson's own standpoint are just as "awful examples" of non-progressiveness as are the Boers of South Africa. Would the good brother favor such a war of conquest and extermination as England is waging against the Boers for the subjugation of any or all of these peoples? Would he consider such a war or such wars a means of realizing his vision and voice of the World's Progress?

Like all other pro-British and anti-Boer advocates, Brother Johnson makes no note of the treaty or "convention" of 1854, in which—in its every line and word—the essential independence of "The South African Republic" was recognized under the hand and seal of the British Government. Should we consider England's flagrant disregard of this treaty a sign of the world-wide progress which we all desire to see? Rather, would it not have been better for England either to have let the Boers alone, or to have overcome their obstinacy and perverseness by honesty and good faith, by the logic of events, and by the weapons which are not carnal but mighty through God? Would not such a course have been more decent, more humane, more Christian and more consistent with the divine plan of progress than is the course of fire and sword, of slaughter and devastation, which England has chosen for the possession of the Transvaal gold mines and the extension of her empire over South Africa? WAIVED EXAMINATION AND WAS BOUND OVER

In the sum of $300 Which was Promptly Furnished—Case Before the Mayor Friday.

The case of Ohio vs. D. H. Miller, M. D., was called before the Mayor at 9:30 this morning. The defendant is charged in an affidavit subscribed by Dr. H. Day, Health Officer, with not reporting a case of smallpox the patient being his wife, Cora M. Miller.

The defendant by his attorneys F. M. Black and S. L. James, filed a motion objecting to the jurisdiction of the Mayor.

This motion, after being argued by Phil B. Smythe and Carl Norpell for the state, and the defendant's attorneys, was overruled, and the defendant waived examination, and was bound over to the Probate Court in the sum of $300, which bond he furnished.

This morning Dr. Miller in the office of Dr. Day made a demand that his daughter be allowed to attend the High school.

The young lady went to school this morning, but was sent home by the Superintendent. An altercation ensued between Dr. Miller and Dr. Day, but the latter with firmness insisted that she remain at home until he was satisfied that all danger of her carrying the disease was past.

A BUSTING BOILER.

How It Looks When a Locomotive Is Blown Up.

"I am one of the very few persons who ever saw a locomotive blow up," remarked an old railroad man to a reporter the other day. "Generally the men who witness the explosion of a steam engine are so dead when the smoke has cleared away that they are never able to give an account of the disaster."

"Like many other accidents, the one I saw was the result of carelessness—low water in the boiler—for the engine had just come from the shops and was in complete repair. It was on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in West Virginia a number of years ago. I was on a locomotive some distance behind the one which exploded and was looking ahead out of the cab window, so that the ill fated engine was immediately before my eyes. Suddenly I saw the machine rise in the air. It seemed to me to be about as high as the telegraph poles beside the track, which, as you doubtless know, are not so high as telegraph poles in the city. Then came a cloud of dense black smoke and dust, which hid the engine from view, and almost simultaneously I heard the roar of the explosion."

"Both the engineer and the fireman were killed, and the locomotive was fit for nothing much but the scrap heap when it fell to the ground. The crown sheet over the firebox had blown out."

"The strange thing about the explosion was that no white steam was seen. You know that perfectly dry steam is invisible, being like the air, and before it had time to condense it was probably smothered by the cloud of smoke and dust raised by the bursting of the boiler."—Baltimore Sun.

PREPARED CHALK.

How to Prepare an Effective and Economical Dentifrice.

Practically all the tooth powders of commerce have the same base—prepared chalk. This is mixed with some sapaceous compound, flavored a little, put up in an attractive bottle or jar and, behold, a tooth powder costing from 15 to 50 cents per vessel, according to the place you buy it and the celebrity of the name on the label.

For 15 cents enough tooth powder to last a family a year can be put together. Buy the chalk in bulk and with it some ground castile soap, which all druggists sell. Put them together in the proportion of one-eighth soap to seven-eighths chalk, mix well and fill any and all the empty tooth powder jars or bottles that you may have around. If flavoring is liked, it is easy to add a little wintergreen or peppermint.

So with the various antiseptic and disinfecting solutions that, attractively bottled and judiciously advertised, coax pennies unnecessarily out of our purses. There is no better cleanser and gentler sweetener than a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda. Fill a pint or a quart bottle. If you want to, with clear water and add bicarbonate of soda got from the druggist, not the grocer, until the liquid will take up no more. Keep this on your toilet shelf and use it as a mouth wash, etc.

When it comes to an antiseptic fluid, any surgeon will tell you that there is practically nothing in materia medica better than salt and water. It is always at hand and is safe and effectual. —New York Post.

An Ample and Sweet Revenge.

A young Englishman who had been repeatedly and unnecessarily annoyed by the St. Malo custom house officials made up his mind to get even with them. The last time he had crossed, he had brought a ferret over with him, and a minute or so before landing he transferred the creature to a black bag, which he carried with extreme care and an evident desire not to attract attention. This immediately fetched one of the donkeys, and he swooped down on it with joyful alacrity.

Our young Englishman pretended not to understand the official until the Frenchman made his meaning clear by unmistakable signs. Then he slowly and reluctantly unlocked the bag. The donkey plunged in his hand, and—but my pen (let me put it down to my pen) refuses to adequately describe the dramatic scene that ensued. Suffice it to say that the bare recital of it was balm to my wounded spirit. I only hope it was our friend at the custom house who made the ferret's acquaintance. Revenge is sweet. —Continental Chit-Chat.

What Two Scotchmen Did.

In the early days of California two Scotchmen emigrated thither. One of them, an enthusiastic lover of Scotland, took with him a thistle, the national emblem. The other took a small swarm of honeybees. Years have gone. The Pacific coast is, on the one hand, cursed with the Scotch thistle, which the farmers find impossible to exterminate; on the other hand, the forests and fields are laden with the sweetness of honey, which has been and still is one of the blessings of the western slope of the Rocky mountains.

Fatigue and Disease.

You will find in every day's practice that fatigue has a larger share in the promotion or the permission of disease than any other single casual condition you can name. —"Memoirs of Sir John Paget."

Looked the Part.

"Is Squeaks a camera fiend?" "I don't know, but he certainly looked like it in the first snap shot his wife took of him."—San Francisco Bulletin.

Few men ever reach the top, probably because the top grows away from the average man as fast as he climbs. —Chicago News.

OBITUARY.

Isaac Jefferson Jones was born at Hanover, Licking county, Ohio, August 21, 1878, and died November 24, 1901, aged 22 years, 3 months and 3 days. He was the son of Alfred and Nancy Jones. He moved to Newark with his parents in 1892, attended the Central school building where he was an obedient and industrious student. Necessity compelled him to seek employment, and for a number of years was employed as hack driver for Lewis Bolton. He was trusted and loved by employer and patrons. He was taken sick with enlargement of the liver in October, 1900, and from then to the time of his death was a patient though great sufferer. To know Isaac was to love him, and his casket was the bearer of many floral tokens of love sent by Mr. Bolton and his sister Lizzie's shopmates at Swishers. He leaves father, mother, brother, Harvey, and sister, Lizzie, to mourn his death. Interment was made at Cedar Hill Tuesday afternoon, where the pride of a home was laid to rest.

ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

The segregation of Philippine lepers in the island of Barri has been recommended. This island, near to and north of Luzon, is uninhabited, two miles long by one wide, with favorable climate and water supply. It has the disadvantages of proximity to the island of Fuga, and the frequency of typhoons.

SEATS

For the First Entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Course Will be Put on Sale Saturday.

Saturday morning at the opening of the Y. M. C. A. building, 9 o'clock, the reserved seats for the first entertainment in the Association course will be placed on sale.

This entertainment will characterize the make up of this splendid course of entertainments offered by the Young Men's Christian Association. Maro is a magic name all over the country and wherever he is announced crowds turn out to hear him. Taylor hall will be packed to hear this wonderful performer.

Magic is but a part of the entertainment but a very strong part. The program is made up of much music, Mr. Maro being a master of string instruments. He is one of the finest cravon artists appearing before the public and will delight the audience.

Seats may be reserved not only by holders of course tickets, but single seats will be sold on and after Saturday morning. First come first served. Reserved seats for the single entertainment will be 50 cents, tickets for the course only $1 and reserved seats on the course ticket only 15 cents. Let everybody patronize the Association course of entertainments and get seats early.

REFORMATORY

ANNUAL REPORT FILED WITH THE GOVERNOR.

Interesting Facts and Figures About the Institution Located at Lancaster, Ohio.

Columbus, O., Nov. 29.—Seventy-five per cent of the boys admitted to the state reformatory for boys at Lancaster are Ohio born. So the annual report of the institution filed with the Governor Wednesday shows there were 508 boys received and 493 discharged; 1,323 were cared for. There were no deaths and while several attempts to escape were made, none were permanently successful. The average age is 14 years.

Of the whole number received, 148 were sent up for violating the compulsory educational law. Forty of the new inmates were foreign born. During the year 18 of the boys enlisted in the United States army. The total current and salary expense was $121,531.87. There were vegetables raised on the farm to the aggregate value of $3,850.55, and in addition to this the farm produced 275 bushels of berries, 2,000 bushels of potatoes, 3,500 bushels of peaches, 2,000 bushels of apples, and 20,000 gallons of milk—the latter costing about four cents per gallon.

There is now a fund of $11,000 available for the erection of new buildings, but it is inadequate; $4,774 is needed for a laundry, $12,000 for a cattle shed and $600 for water improvements. The institution will need for current expenses next year $128,600 and for construction $208,484.

They want a revision of the laws regulating commitments. The present laws were enacted years ago. Of the whole number of inmates in the reformatory 161 used tobacco—mostly cigarette smokers.

GRANVILLE

For Department Called to Samuel Spilgers House—Personals From the College Town.

Granville, O., Nov. 29.—A small fire at the residence of Samuel Spilger on West Maple street, called the department out on Thursday afternoon. The fire was quickly extinguished with but little damage. The exciting feature of the occasion, however, was Dave Bolen, with old "Bob" hauling the hose cart. The feat was only witnessed by a few persons, but those who saw it will long remember it as a record breaker, and it should go down in history.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Edwards of Franklin county, who have been visiting friends in this vicinity for the past few days, returned home on Wednesday.

Salvation Army.

A detachment of the Salvation Army, under command of Ensign Schimrine, has arrived in the city, and will work in their own way to do what they can for the saving of mankind. They held their first service on Thursday night at 29 North Fourth street, and considering that this was their first service and it being Thanksgiving, there was a very good attendance, and considerable interest was manifest. The meetings will continue to be held at 29 North Fourth street until further notice.

Mayor Wins Ring.

The prize of a gold ring offered by Jerry Loewendick, of the Brunswick Bowling Alleys, for the best score made on his alleys at Quintette, was won on Thanksgiving by Mayor Herbert Atherton, he making a score of 84. The best score heretofore made in Newark was made by Mr. Frank Bartholomew, when he made a score of 85. These scores were made out of a possible 150.

QUITE A FUSS

RAISED OVER THE WAY MR. PHILBRICK WRITES NAME.

On Registration Books It Is "CC."—On His Bond It's "C. C."—Complications Result.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

According to developments the question has been raised whether Director Philbrick is legally entitled to hold his office. His legal name is CC. Philbrick, while on his official bond and other documents appears C. C. Philbrick. That his legal name is CC. Philbrick is shown by the published list of voters in Precinct C, 18th ward, as the legal and full name of every qualified voter must be published and appear in full and the published list must be hung in some conspicuous place at the voting precinct whenever an election is held and several days before that time under the election laws.

His official bond for $25,000 executed last April and acknowledged before Frank Rubrecht as notary bears the signature C. C. Philbrick together with the signatures of the sureties, Elmer O. Jones, Howard C. Park and Chas. E. Morris. Just over the E. in Ellis appears the period after the first C.

The question is whether the difference in Mr. Philbrick's signature of his bond and official documents and that of his legal, true and correct name amounts to a misnomer and what the effect would be if it is a misnomer.

Courts have rendered a number of opinions about misnomers and there is a general statute upon the subject of misnomers, but it refers more particularly to criminal cases. Another question is whether the city would be estopped from setting up the claim of misnomer, since his bond has been accepted and approved as a criminal is estopped from setting up a claim of misnomer after a verdict of guilty has been returned against him. But in criminal cases a person pleading to an indictment as provided by statute may enter a plea in abatement on account of a misnomer by pleading his true and correct name.

The fact that Mr. Philbrick's first name is "CC." was developed through curiosity that has often been aroused as to what the two C's stood for. Mr. Philbrick admits his full name is CC. Philbrick.

STUDENTS' DEPOSITIONS.

In the case of Emmet M. Wickham vs. George Coyner, in which Wickham contests the election of Coyner as Common Pleas judge, in the Circuit Court of Delaware county, the depositions of the Granville students who were subpoenaed, have been transcribed and are now in shape for the Circuit Court.

It makes a voluminous document, covering 300 pages of typewritten matter, and was prepared in his usual careful manner by stenographer C. C. Cooper.

The depositions of the students of Kenyon college will be taken at Mt. Vernon next week.

Morphia tea parties are said to be the proper thing in Paris; and a number of women in high social standing are, it is claimed, becoming addicted to the drug. Its popularity is unfortunately increasing by leaps and bounds.

A 100-foot mast has been set up in Siasconset, Mass., for the wireless telegraph station which will receive messages from the Nantucket lightship. The ground connections were made by placing eight heavy metallic plates, 2½ x 8 feet, in the ground.

Bottled Comfort

When suffering from toothache, neuralgia, or severe pain anywhere, it's a comfort to apply just the right degree of heat.

It's more than a comfort—it's a remedy—probably the only remedy needed if the heat is kept constant.

With a Hot Water Bag you can have heat at its best. No scorching, and a steady even temperature for hours if necessary.

Bags of all sizes. Quality the best, no matter how low the price may be.
